

Roberta Biundo is currently working as assistant professor at the General Psychology Department, University of Padua (IT). She worked as clinical neuropsychologist and research coordinator of the Parkinson disease and movement disorder unit at the “San Camillo Hospital”, I.R.C.C.S, in Venice (IT). She graduated with honors in Experimental Psychology at the University of Trieste (Italy) (2004) and completed her psychologist training to obtain the Italian HCPC equivalent (48/50) (2005). In 2010, she was awarded a Ph.D. in Neuroscience, EU Marie Curie Network, at the Psychology Department, University of Hull (UK), exploring preclinical indicators of abnormal cognitive decline in ageing. In 2016, she was awarded Psychotherapist at the (C.I.S.S.P.A.T.)”. In 2017 she obtained the qualified Associated Professor title for the topic General Psychology, Psychobiology and Psychometry (11/E1) ASN2016. During her academic/ clinical career, Roberta Biundo has published 53-reviewed manuscripts indexed peers and 1 chapter of a book. Her H index is 19 and she has more than 1200 citations (Scopus). She serves as a reviewer for the main medical, neurological and psychology journals.